Rhodri began playing hockey alongside older brother and fellow squad member, Gareth Furlong, at Cambridge Nomads HC. He then went on to play for Wales at U16, U18 and U21 level, before transitioning into the Senior Men's set up aged 17.

Following his full-international debut against Scotland aged 19, Rhodri has since played in several major tournaments for Wales, including their memorable A Division European campaign in 2019.

Rhodri has also enjoyed success with Hampstead and Westminster HC, winning the English Premier League in 2018/2019 alongside several other Welsh team-mates.
